

"The clearer we see who God is the louder our shouts of joy will be."

There may seem to be little reason to be excited in today's world. Many are facing great challenges, only to see potentially more problems on the horizon. What is a person to do? Where should we be looking?

The Bible is full of story after story of when people were filled with great joy when God showed up on the scene. I can imagine great shouts of joy as the people of Israel were being lead out of Egyptian slavery, after 400 years of captivity. At that moment their hearts were overflowing with great joy. As reality of the situation set in their mouths must have shouted great shouts of freedom and victory, as they saw the power of God.

How many times, in your life, have you seen the power of God move? Those times in which God shows up on the scene to move in power and might to answer that prayer request. Oh how our spirit rejoices in those moments of great victory! Praise God he still answers prayer!

Let's be reminded that those moments are there for us to see who God is. Let's be people who worship God and see him for who he is and not because of what he does. The more clearly we see who he is the more we are drawn to him. God is love, joy, peace, kindness, righteousness, power, holy, etc. He is all that we will ever need.

God wants to be our God and dwell with us, let's allow him to do that. How clearly do you see him today? How loud are your shouts of joy today? Know today that God wants to reveal himself to you in fresh and new ways. Know that right now God wants to show you who he is. Will you look to him?

God deserves our worship because of who he is. He alone is God. Let's shout for our God.

Lord, show yourself to us. Thank you for all you have done for us. Thank you for who you are. May we shout louder the more we see you.